WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 8.

We receive a great many communica tions from persons whose names are withheld, or unknown to us, and of course we can pay no attention to them.

The Havana Consulate.

The gentleman who was selected within the present year to discharge the duties of this important position, but who, on a recent tragic occasion, evinced his utter unfitness for the station, has had the benefit of a trial-the people of the United States acting as jurors. In other words, the public sentiment of the United States has been ascertained in relation to his imbecile conduct, (not to use a harsher term,) when upwards of fifty of his gallant but misguided countrymen were summarily and cruelly ushered into the presence of their Maker. In the journals published in every part of our widely extended country, north, south, east and west, we read the verdict of an indignant people, upon the unfeeling, irresolute and pusillanimous course of Mr. Owen, upon the occasion referred to. Their verdict is not of mere disapproval, but of condemnation in the most scathing and unmeasured terms. This avalanche of public opinion cannot be resisted here in the federal metropolis, and we cannot forbear expressing our gratification that the Administration will soon move in this important matter. If our information be reliable-of which we have no doubt-Mr. Fillmore has determined, after full consideration, to dismiss the delinquent consul. The entire people of the United States, and especially the bereaved and afflicted relatives and friends of the butchered Americansthe martyrs of the Castle of Atares-will thank and honor him for his decision.

The name we have heard most prominently mentioned in political circles in connexion with this place, is that of Col. JAMES B. WALTON, of New Orleans. This would be a most felicitous selection. Col. W. is a native of the "Crescent City," and has "grown with its growth, and strengthened with its strength." He is a gentleman of firmness, of fine talents, handsome attainments, and winning address. In the late war with Mexico he commanded the first regiment of Louisiana volunteers, and we have heard veteran officers in the regular army declare that this regiment equaled in discipline, soldierly appearance, precision in drill, and effective service, any corps of the regular army. The lamented and discriminating Taylor often spoke in terms of high commendation of Col. Walton's command. During the last Presidential canvas he was a member of the Whig executive committee of Louisiana, and vice-president of that gallant and irresistible political corps, the " Fillmore Rangers." His political position will therefore no doubt prove acceptable. A noblehearted American, lofty, generous and humane in his feelings, an accomplished linguist, speaking and writing the French and Spanish languages with fluency, he would, as the represenfative of the United States at the city of Hathe people of both the great political parties of ter. the "sugar State."

DIRECT TRADE OF THE SOUTHERN STATES this city to-day for the South, and will attend the Macon Convention on the 27th instant. He is the direct trade between the Southern States and the continent of Europe-a subject which has been twice noticed in our columns, and one that we are happy to know can suffer nothing from the elucidation which Mr. Baylor is prepared to give it. We recommend him and his cause to be felt by his friends.

THE LIQUOR BILL.-We were somewhat in error yesterday. The bill passed by the Common Council does not embrace taverns and hotels: it is simply "an act amendatory of an act levying a tax on shops, porter cellars, and firm of Fillmore & Hall stood directly in his rear confectionaries, and increasing the tax on ordinaries, retailers," &c., approved October 26, 1819. Bars are kept in many houses not bona fide hotels and taverns, and these will be affected by this amendatory act.

Dr. Junkin will deliver a discourse on next Sabbath evening to the young ladies and gentlemen of the F street Presbyterian church, and such others as may attend, to whom a cordial invitation is extended; and that the entire body of the church will be reserved for this interest. ing class of the community. The service will begin at half-past seven o'clock.

ELOQUENCE OF THE HON. A. H. H. STUART .-A writer, who saw and heard Mr. Stuart at Boston, says of him :

"When standing still, he has a stiff, martinet look. But all vanishes the moment he begins to speak. Then all is grace, and it becomes apparent that he is possessed of all the attributes of a finished orator. A rich and melodious voice, clear and elegant enunciation, graceful resticulation, happy turns of thought, and an engaging warmth and sincerity, all combine to render him an unusually attractive speaker.' It is a pity his speeches read so poorly; he must be an orator indeed, to win praises by the

A GIANT.-The Ohio State Journal gives a account of a huge specimen of humanity, a giant which it avers is a giant, and one of the greatest living curiosities extant. He stands about eight Troops have been sent to arrest him. feet high, weighing over four hundred pounds, with good proportions, and yet he is a beardless boy, and is still growing. He is a sight worth seeing, as it is only once in an age that such a person is permitted to grow.

The Syracuse Slave Case and Rescue. Detached account's of this affair have been generally published; but a narrative will no doubt prove at this moment acceptable. The name of the slave is Jerry. He is a cooper, and was employed at his trade. He was claimed by Mr. John McReynolds, of Missouri. The arrest was made during the sittings of an Anti-Slavery Convention in the place, and the meeting of the County Fair.

What followed is told in the following telegraphic despatch, dated October 1st: "Considerable excitement was occasioned by the arrest, and a large crowd assembled in an about the office of the Commissioner.

"While the examination was progressing, the negro made his escape into the street, and was closely followed by a crowd of persons, some of whom were desirous to assist in his escape, and others were equally anxious to assist in hi recapture. A carriage was speedily procured by the negro's friends, but not in season to be made available for the object in view. He was recaptured by the officers before he got out of the limits of the city.

"He was then taken to the police office, followed by a large crowd, composed mostly of "The examination was resumed with closed loors.

"Several white men were arrested for assist ing the negro in his attempted flight.
"A large concourse of people surrounded the police office, where the negro and the white men were undergoing an examination. " About dusk the crowd began to throw stone into the window of the police office pretty freely, which had the effect to adjourn the court till eight o'clock to-morrow morning."

What followed is thus stated by the New ork Daily Times:

"Jerry was then removed to a room back of the main office, with the design of retaining him there until next day. Such, however, was by no means the good pleasure of the outsiders The tumult and violence continued to augment.

The shower of missiles became so severe as to require the windows to be nailed up with planks. This was not accomplished without damage to the officers. To intimidate the assailants, several guns were discharged from the building over the heads of the crowd. One or two equally harmless shots were returned from the assembly; and there appears to have been no further employment of fire-arms. At 83 o'clock a systematic attack was made, with axes, sledges, crowbars, and a battering-ram in the shape of a heavy plank, upon the door of the outer office. It speedily gave way before the tremendous assault, and in a few minutes the partition of the inner apartment fell beneath the strokes of the assailants, and after a courageous resistance on the part of the officers the chains and manacles were stricken off the first thing, a difficult task in the dense darkness of the room, whose lights had been extinguished at the commencement of the onslaught. The rescuers, who, as far as could be seen, appeared to be chiefly negroes, bore the poor wretch down several streets to Brintnall's hotel, and placing him in a carriage, the late slave and captive was speedily beyond the reach of marshals, masters, and manacles."

The refusal or omission of the civil and military authorities to perform the duties incumbent upon them, forms another chapter in this affair. As has been already stated in a despatch in this paper, many men, white and colored, who participated in this rescue, are well known, and their punishment is essential vana, grace the station; and the intelligence of to the fulfilment of the law. Its fulfilment or his appointment would impart gratification to abandonment, either, will prove a serious mat-

The Tochman Case.

Yesterday afternoon, after the Telegraph had gone to press, Major Tochman appeared before Justice Morsell, and inquired whether he had read the publication made a part of the affidavit upon which he had issued a warrant for the alleged libel against Henri de Ahna. Being answered by Justice Morsell that he had not read it, Major T. requested the Justice to read in the Arctic Expedition, has arrived at the it, and say whether there was any thing in it which would authorize further proceedings. After the perusal of the publication referred to, the Justice answered that there was a probability that some parts of it might be considered as libellous. The Major then, protesting against small majority for McDonald, State Rights. as libellous. The Major then, protesting against the opinion of Justice Morsell, said he would not argue the matter; and asked the Justice what amount of bail he demanded. The anwer was, "a thousand dollars;" to which Major I. rejoined, "You asked and took $500 bail from from the 7th district are favorable to Stephens, T. rejoined, "You asked and took $5000 ball from De Ahna, who circulated the most malicious and infamous libel against my wife, and you require of me $1,000 ball for coming out in defence of the honor and reputation of my lady."

The justice at once reduced the amount of ball to $500. Dr. G. Bailey was then introduced by Major T. as his bail—whereupon Major T. was informed by Justice Morsell that De Ahna insisted upon holding him to a higher bail, and had gone after his counsel, Mr. Morgan, who would argue the case. Major T. then expressed a wish that the case should be taken before ana wish that the case should be taken before another magistrate, but was answered that the warrant being special, he was not at liberty to do so. "Well, then," said Major T., "I do not want to hear the argument of Mr. Morgan, nor do I wish to make any defence. If, after hearing Mr. Morgan, Justice M. should demand one thousand dollars bail, he (Major T.) would give it; and moved that the bail of $500 required of him be taken instantly, and that he be discontinuously and that he be discontinuously and that he be discontinuously and the staken instantly, and that he be discontinuously and the staken instantly. of him be taken instantly, and that he be discharged, which was done accordingly.

The following is the publication upon which this proceeding was instituted:

[Communicated.] A WARNING .- A certain Bayarian Captain (or man passing himself for a Bavarian Captain) was introduced to Gov. Ujhazy, his family, and Mademoiselle Jagiello, now my wife, when they were passing through Hamburg to embark for this, the country of their asylum. That Bavarian is not a political exile. He came to this country on board the same steamer which brought Gov. Ujhazy and his party of Hungarian exiles, with a view of seeking better fortune than he enjoyed in his native land. He behaved like a gentleman and was very courteous in Hamburg, on board the steamer, and in New York, which gained him the respect and consideration of the whole party of the Hungarian exiles. He lived upon their charity, and Made moiselle Jagiello loaned him money, which he never returned, and introduced him to many respectable families in New York. Her charitable kindness seems to have been misunderstood by that individual, or, at least, so it appears from his subsequent conduct, which brought to light the inward character of the individual. He came to Washington, a few weeks ago, for the purpose of finding some employment, and having learned that Mademoiselle Jagiello was engaged to me, he tried to revolt her against me; failing in this, he resorted to the villany of defaming the lady whom he once adored, and circulated assertions that I would never marry her, &c. Our subsequent marriage having put the lie in his throat, he left Washington for New York, and tempted the Hungarian exiles to furnish him testimony to impeach the character of my lady, offering two hundred dellars to any who would do so. No Hungarian could be bought by him; but he enlisted as accom-plices of his baseness two foreigners: one a native of Vienna, who served in the Hungarian army, and claims to be a Hungarian major; the other is a Hungarian Jew, a pedlar, whom the Hungarian revolution elevated to the rank of lieutenant. These two individuals, a year ago, denounced Governor Ujhazy as a traitor, stating that he assumed the rank of Governor of Co morn in this country, &c. The public were disabused from this falsehood by the wellknown letter which Kossuth wrote to General Cass, recommending Gov. Ujhazy as his particular friend, and most deserving of regard as a Hungarian patriot. Now, the same individals, as I have been informed, gave the Bavarian Captain a certificate or affidavit, averring that my wife is a Jewess, and defaming her character by the most shameless false de nunciations. I have been trying during whole week to lay hand upon a copy of that libel, (which has been printed in the form of a r and is circula tain,) for the purpose of indicting the libellers. As yet I have not succeeded; the friends of my wife and mine refusing to take from the libelle copies of that libel; and those who are strangers to us declining to furnish any to us-probably unwilling to become witnesses in the criminal prosecution, which requires that the circulation of the libel be proved against the libeller Under these circumstances of the case, this statement of facts is submitted to the public of this community, in order to disabuse them in the premises, and caution all respectable families against the unworthy individuals. It seems to me that this unfortunate circumstance requires of me to say who is my wife. Unwilling as I am to boast of her ancestry, the truth com-

I have examined an article prepared by Messrs. Hummel, Bohler & Co., of Philadelphia, called Essence of Coffee, which is intended to be used with coffee for the purpose of improving it. I find it free not only from any thing injurious to health, but, on the contrary, the in gredients of which it is composed are perfectly whole some.

Messrs. Hummel, Bohler & Co.—Gentlemen: We ta Messrs. We believe it to be one of those articles that will remain in constant use, and the more it becomes known the greater will be the demand for it.

Yours, respectfully, C. A. MORRIS & CO.

BETTER THAN GOLD!

PORTSMOUTH, July 9, 1851.

Mr. J. E. Boush—Dear Sir: I feel it a duty to make known the benefit I have derived from Dr. Hampton's VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For a number of years I suffered from disease, but to a greater degree for the last three years. One of the forms of my disease was dyspep-sia. From this dreadful malady I suffered to such an exthree years. One of the forms of my disease was dyspepsia. From this dreadful malady I suffered to such an extent that life was really a burden. The attack of it on me was different to that on any other person of whom I have heard; at times it was like the palpitation of the heart; there was a constant thumping and beating without intermission about the region of my heart, chest, and stomach; some of the attacks would last for weeks; my stomach was much distended, with constant pain, great weakness, and constination of the bowels. I could not eat the most simple food without pain. I also suffered greatly from disease of the kidneys, with constant pain in the back, that I could walk only with great difficulty. I tried nearly all of the most celebrated patent medicines of the day, but found no relief. I had also the best medical attendance. One of my physicians frankly told me it was of no use for me to be paying him for advice, as he could do me no good. I gave up almost in despair, and thought my disease certainly incurable.

At this juncture I heard of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. I refused to give it a trial, although persuaded by my friends, until my son purchased a few bottles, and requested me to try it; after taking it a few times, it had a most happy effect on me; my confidence increased, and after taking three bottles, my dyspepsia, or disease of the stomach, was nearly if not entirely cured. I now feel myself a new man, and in better health than for years. I am certain the cure in my case was made by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture alone. Since my cure I have recommended the tincture to a number of my friends, who have also been relieved by it. Some of the cures have been as rapid and equally wonderful as mine.

I present my respects to Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray, the proprietors of this valuable medicine, and say to them its value is above price; and from my cure, and what I have seen of its effects on others, I shall ever feel it my duty to recommend it to the suffering. I have no doubt many valua

The above is extracted from a letter from a gentleman sixty years of age, and of high character. He says: "I have given but a faint idea of my sufferings; I feel inadequate to the task." We also have received, in the last few days, letters from two of our most worthy and well-known citizens, review from few days, letters from two of our most worthy and well-known citizens, giving two remarkable cities of spinal disease. But yesterday one of the oldest merchants reported that he was cured of neuralgia of the head, of years standing, and so bad that his teeth fell out from its effects. Call and see letters. Was there ever so many cures, wonderful cures, made by any other medicine. All we ask of the afflicted is that they try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, the great purifier of the blood and cure for all chronic diseases, as dyspepsia, rheumatism, serofula, and all complaints of the stomach, bowels, &c.
